Customer Reviews

I liked these stories. Some of them actually went beyond simply trying to be creepy (scary) and make you think. Of course, that's not good news if you want fun stories to spook the kids at campfire time. The stories are rather long so they have more substance but they are not really very fitting for actual fireside scares. Many of them require more than 15 minutes of time. Kids tend to stop paying attention after a few minutes and I've generally lost them completely by mid story. From an adult perspective I really enjoyed each of them.

I thought the stories were very entertaining. There were no pages missing and the front cover is in good shape. A great buy!!!
