Customer Reviews

HELAINÉ BECKER is the bestselling writer of children's fiction, nonfiction, and verse. Her chapter book series, The Looney Bay All-Stars, has sold over 175,000 copies to date; A Porcupine in a Pine Tree has sold more than 200,000 copies and was a national bestseller in 2010, 2011, and 2012. It received the Libris Picture Book of the Year Award from the C.B.A. She is also a three-time winner of the Silver Birch Award. A New York native, she has lived happily in Toronto for more than twenty years. She has been on the executive board of CANSCAIP (the Canadian Society of Children's Authors and Illustrators) and is a member of the CCBC and The Writers Union of Canada. She is married with two teenage sons and has the cutest dog in the world, Ella.

Beautiful pictures! This is a great book for school. It has lots of information and it's presented in an interesting way, so the kids really like it.

Middle school students enjoy reading the book on their own, great images and attention-getting headlines, some info about black holes may be out of date but overall a good resource to add to a classroom or to buy for kids at home.

The pages are beautiful. This book is not just for kids! I'll probably purchase other "Everything" books

Grandson loved it

National Geographic's EVERYTHING series contains over a dozen books that will jumpstart the exploration of science and history topics. EVERYTHING SPACE begins by exploring the space in our neighborhood then branches out to examine the secrets of the universe. Space programs and heroes are featured along with an exploration of facts vs fiction. The book is filled with fascinating diagrams, infographics, photos, charts, and other appealing visuals. Librarians will find that this entire series will fly off the shelves. Each short, highly visual book is chuck-full of fascinating facts that will ignite the imagination.

received thank you.
